Challenges Faced in Enterprise Training

Shortage of Trainers

There are not enough trainers, or not enough knowledgeable and qualified ones.

Disruption Cost

Operations and schedules will be disrupted if there is a need to pull existing staff as trainers.

Scheduling

Not easy to arrange training that fits everyone's schedule, especially when they are from different time zones.

Lack of Granularity

Trainers need to conduct full training, from the basics to advanced topics.

Emerging Generations

Millennials, Gen Zs and Alphas expect more interactive and digital methods of learning.

Scalability & Tracking

Hard to replicate consistent quality across teams or regions. Tough to track ROI or skill improvements after training.
